STOP. PLAY. STAY.

Welcome to Kearney, Nebraska, crossroads of the past and of the future. One of the Heartland's most progressive and thriving small cities, Kearney can become your trail stop with over 1,500 rooms with a range of price options and a variety of dining choices during your stay. From the first travelers of the 19th Century who rolled through in covered wagons to those cruising through today in vehicles, Kearney has always been an educational, entertaining and enjoyable trail stop. Thousands of travelers continue to discover why Kearney is the crossroads of the future.

The Great Platte River Road Archway located just east of Kearney spanning Interstate 80, is a must see stop. You and your family will experience adventures of the Oregon Trail to the Lincoln Highway and beyond through 12 unique "you are there" immersive exhibit environments.

Fort Kearny State Historical Park located on 40 acres just south and east of Kearney on Link 50A was the first fort on the Oregon Trail route as well as the first build for the protection of travelers on the trail. The Fort grounds consists of replica buildings of the original layout as well as reconstructed "fort" stockade.

Rowe Sanctuary's Ian Nicholson Audubon Center, owned and managed by the National Audubon Society, and includes 2.5 miles of river channel, wet meadows, and some agricultural fields. The new Ian Nicholson Center is the second largest straw bale constructed building in the United States. The building provides indoor classrooms, educational displays, conference rooms and a gift shop as well as a viewing area of the river and much more.

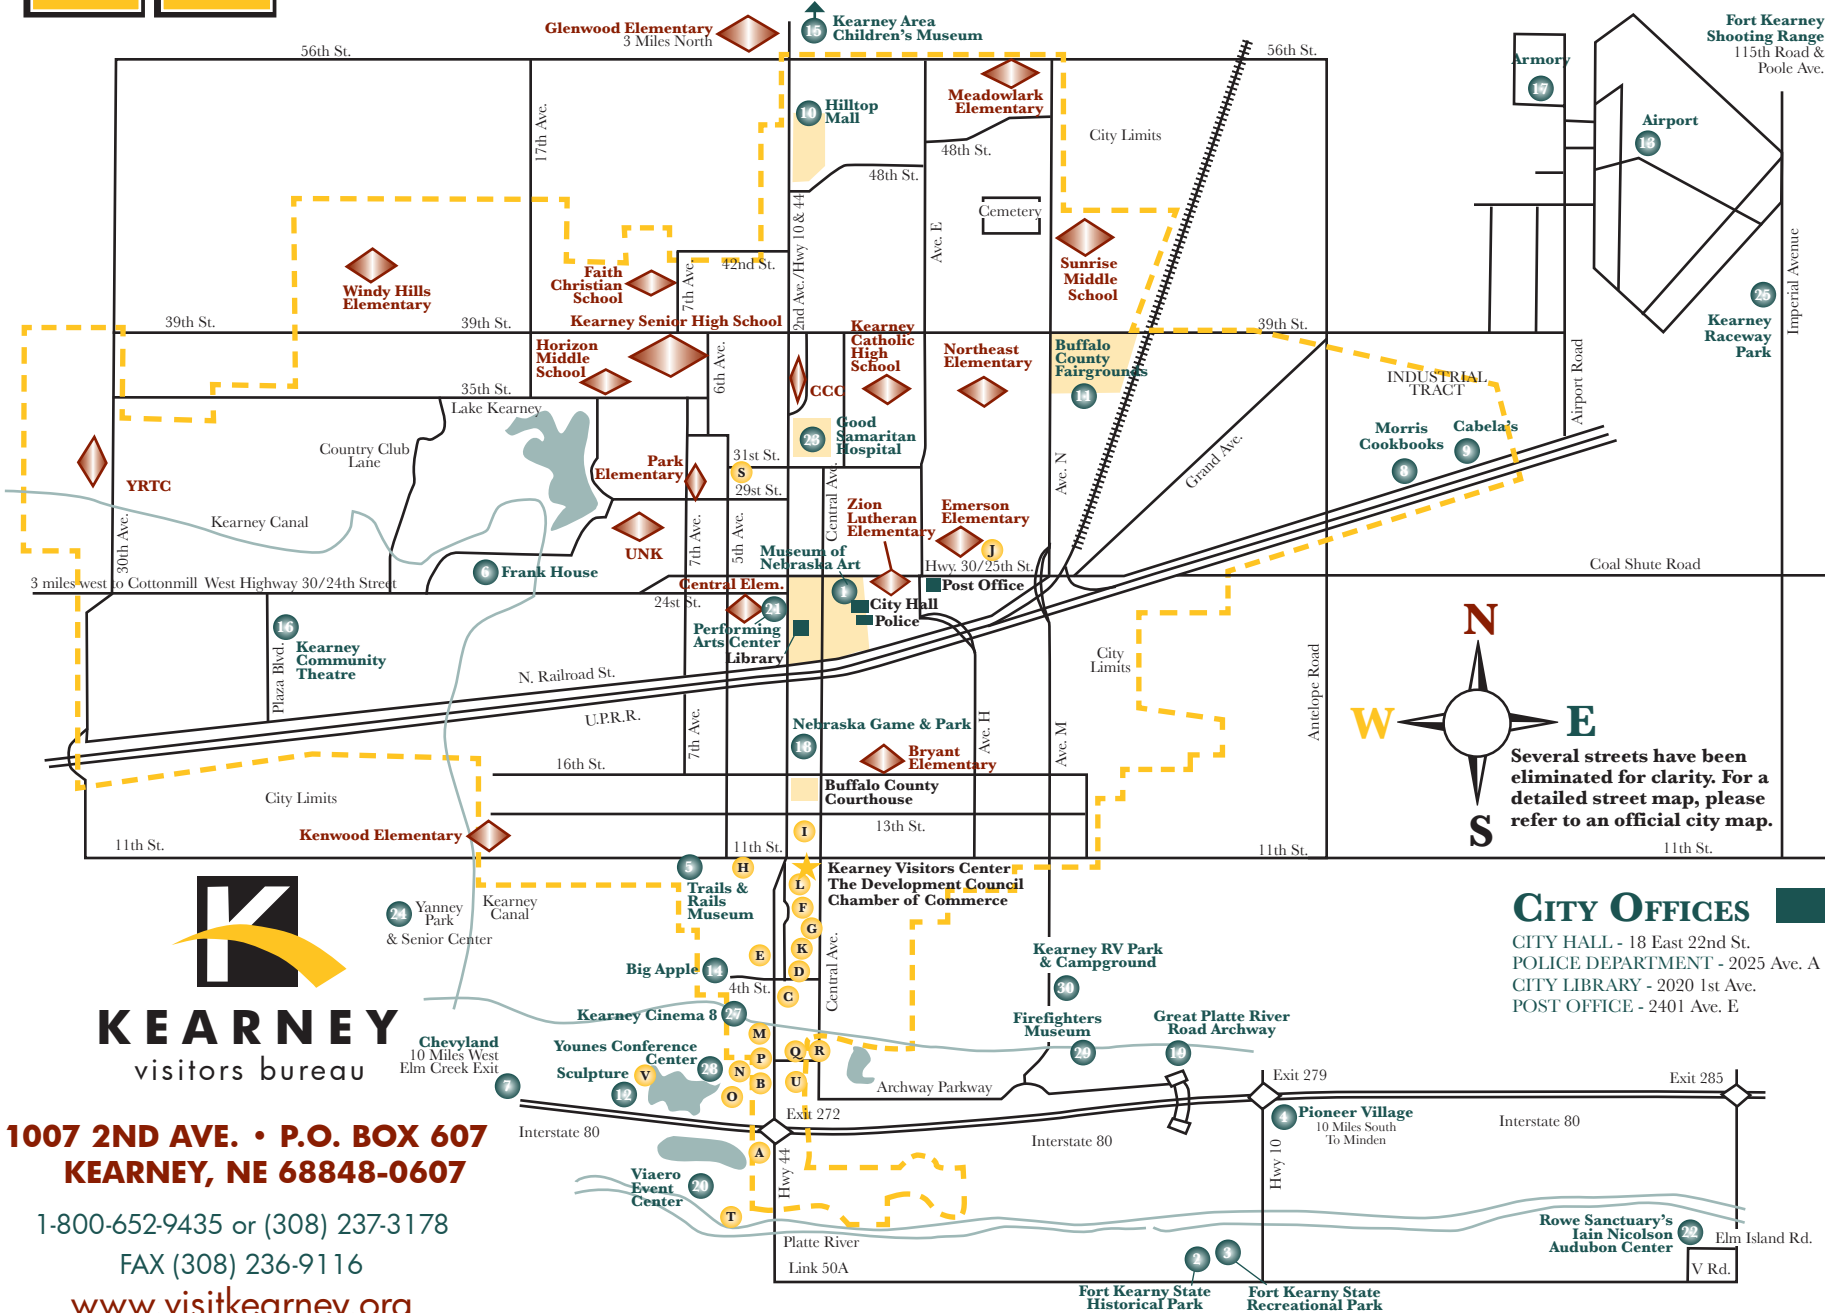

Cabela's located just 2 miles east of Kearney on Hwy. 30 is the "World's Foremost Outdoor Outfitter". The retail center not only houses thousands of outdoor hunting and camping gear merchandise, but also numerous wild-life displays and mounts. In addition, you can enjoy one of the live fish aquariums. There is nothing quite like it.
